

Animated Movie Premiere of “Dawns dance”

A picture of German-Japanese friendship in a dystopian world

With the friendly support and cooperation of film director Ryo Nakajima and his animation studio “Super Süß”, our German and Japanese high school students were able to produce an animated short film with VR and motion capture technology. They were able to make experiences in scriptwriting, character creation, animation and acting while polishing their language skills.

“Dawn’s dance” shows the struggles of Japanese and German teenagers and their society after an environmental crisis in a possible future.

We invite you to join us, when we watch our protagonists nurturing their friendship in virtual reality.

Will they be able to survive in a toxic environment with limited resources? Find out on February 24th!
